Infraction Advisement of Rights

Most people think an infraction is a minor criminal matter. Because it is civil your rights are a little different than you might think.

1. You have the right to a trial by court or by jury. If you want a jury trial you must request it in writing within ten (10) days after denial, or you lost the right to a jury trial.
2. You have the right to be represented by attorney.
3. You have the right to hear and cross-examine the State's witnesses.
4. You have the right to call your own witnesses. The Court will issue subpoenas for you.
5. You do NOT have the right to remain silent. You will be required to testify even if you do not want to, if the State calls you as a witness or asks to take your deposition.
6. The State is required to prove the elements of the charge by a preponderance of the evidence.
7. If you are tried and a judgment is entered against you, you may appeal the decision.
8. Because an infraction is not a crime you are not subject to being incarcerated as a penalty, although you may be incarcerated for failing to appear.
9. If you have a trial, the judge or jury not only determines guilt or innocence, but also determines the amount of the fine, which may be lower or higher than the amount set on the reverse side of this sheet.
10. Judgments up to the following amounts may be entered against you: $10,000.00 for a Class "A" Infraction; $1,000.00 for a Class "B" Infraction; $500.00 for a Class "C" Infraction and $25.00 for a Class "D" Infraction. The Court Costs must be added to A, B and some C Infractions.
11. If you are found guilty of a driving violation, that along with the judgment will be certified to the Bureau of Motor Vehicles and will become a permanent part of your driving record. You may be subject to a license suspension.
